We made a Mistake.

Fine shoes of all kinds look so much prettier on B and C widths than on D, E and F widths, that in our eagerness to have pretty, stylish, shoes and oxfords for our customers, we bought too large a proportion on narrow lasts. It won't kill us but it will cost us several dollars.

You make a Mistake

If you have a narrow, slim foot and don't see our stock and prices. And even if you have a short thick foot, do you know it would look much better in a narrow shoe several sizes longer than your foot!

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Burglars at Crofton-Lafayette Merchant testified before the Grand Jury at Dawson-Ravages of Cut Worms-Flour Takes a Heavy Tobacco Sales.

Burglars Make a Water Hand.

CROFTON, May 22.—The general merchandise store of Myers & Ezell was broken into last night by burglars. They cut a hole in the window shutter and raised the window. They tried to get in the safe by drilling a hole in the safe door, but broke the bit. They then broke off the handle that moves the bolts, also breaking off the dial of the combination, but failed to get in the safe. They used tools from a blacksmith shop. No clue to the burglars. A telephone message was sent to the sheriff at Earlington and he brought his three blood hounds and put them on the trail and they followed it for about a mile, to the Hill switch, near Empire, when they lost it. The supposition is that the burglars boarded a freight at that point. It seems that the would-be thieves were after money, as none of the goods were molested.

Lafayette Merchant in Trouble.

Moses Heimansohn, the Lafayette dry goods merchant who failed about two weeks ago, was indicted by the Jefferson county grand jury, in Louisville, Monday, on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses. It is understood that Heimansohn's Louisville creditors testified before the grand jury that it was on this account that the bill was found. Deputy U. S. Marshal Howard came down Wednesday and arrested Heimansohn and brought him to this city. He had a bond before Deputy H. H. Goley for his appearance to answer the charge before the criminal court in Louisville June 3. The amount of the bond was $200. Messrs. T. J. Moore, Heimansohn's assignee, Marcus Weinberg, and Louis Heimansohn, of Cadiz, went on the bond, and the prisoner was released from custody.

Sudden Death at Dawson.

D. Tiedman, one of the foremost buyers on the Clarksville breaks, died very suddenly at Dawson Springs, Tuesday morning. For some time he had been in poor health and went to the Springs about a month ago. He leaves a wife but no children. He was a native of Bremen, but a few years ago he came to Clarksville from Richmond, Va., and has been a large buyer for Bremen and other export markets. He was the manager for the firm of Ernst, Mueller & Co., of New York. He was about 50 years old.

New Paper at Sebree.

Next Thursday morning the first issue of the Sebree Herald, a new paper to be published at Sebree, will appear. The sheet will be edited and published by Mr. Geo. Beard, late of Sturgis. It gives the town two papers, the Ledger having been established several months ago by Mr. John C. Riley. Mr. Beard has had several years' experience in newspaper life, having been connected with a Sturgis paper for some time, and has purchased a new outfit with which to commence business.

The Deppens are Here.

The Nashville Deppens and the locals played a good game at the park yesterday. We went to press too early to give the score. The same club will meet to-day, the game being called at 2:30 sharp. Those wishing to witness a good game of ball should not fail to attend. Today's game will be finished in time for those from a distance to leave on the afternoon trains. The crowd that witnessed yesterday's game was the largest of the season, and the indications are that there will be a very large attendance this afternoon.

Tobacco Man Hadly Hurt.

Mr. M. D. Boales, the well-known tobacco man, happened to a painful accident Wednesday morning, which came near resulting seriously. He was standing on the high platform of Wheeler, Mills & Co's warehouse, on 6th street, when he slipped and fell to the ground, striking his right arm on some broken glass and cutting his wrist to the bone. Mr. Boales was at once taken to the office of Dr. F. M. Stites, who, after some difficulty, stopped the flow of blood and rendered other necessary surgical aid.

Cut Worms' Work.

From many sections of the county reports are still coming in concerning the continued ravages of the cut worms. In the Pembroke neighborhood some farmers have been forced to set their tobacco a third time, and other crops have also been damaged by the pests. The weather for the past few weeks has been very favorable for their work and unless there is a decided change in a very few days the damage will be almost incalculable.

Off for Louisville.

The special car from this city for the Y. P. S. C. E. State convention attached to yesterday's accommodation train, contained an enthusiastic crowd of endeavorers. There were forty from this place and five from Earlington. A large party joined them at Bowling Green. The car was handsomely decorated inside and had streamers running from end to end on the outside bearing the words "Hopkinsville Endeavorers." All of them are furnished with free entertainment during the convention in Falls City and a good time is in store for them. The Louisville convention may equal but cannot excel the convention held here last year. Most of the crowd will have the evening of Sunday. Mr. Fred K. Wallis will conduct the closing service of the convention. This is the consecration service and is regarded as one of the most solemn and interesting ones of the convention, and was conducted here last year by "Father" Francis E. Clark, the founder of the United Societies.

A Lively Tobacco Market.

Our market this week is again on a boom and some fine prices have been obtained. The offerings amounted to about 600 hogsheds, with very few rejections. Fine leaf was in great demand and some of this class brought $13.50, while much of it went above the $10 mark. The market on commoner kinds was also active and somewhat stronger, with a fairly good demand. Receipts continue large and are increasing right along. Many hogsheds from Robertson, Montgomery, and Stewart counties, Tenn., and Logan, Simpson, Warren, Todd, Trigg, Caldwell, Crittenden, Hopkins, Webster and Muhlenberg counties, Ky., have been received this week and much more will follow. The weather has been very cool for the season and the plants set have not yet made much headway, but a few warm days will start them off all right. While the cool weather the tobacco will not order well, hence the full delivery of the '94 crop will be retarded a few weeks. The loose market has been active all along, but there are no new features to report.

The Advance in Flour.

"In sympathy" with the advance in the price of wheat in Chicago last week, flour bobbed up $1.15 on the barrel from Tuesday to Saturday of last week, which caused considerable growling from those who happened to be out of that commodity. Some local speculating was indulged in and a few dealers who were not posted were caught for small amounts. We have heard of one party who sold a "long" and realized $1,500. He had courage enough to draw out and quit at the right time. A further advance in flour is expected by some of our dealers, some predicting that the first grade will go beyond $5 before new wheat comes in. Our farmers will no doubt realize a good price for their new crop and will be quite plentiful when they commence delivering it. Meal, bacon, lard and sugar are also in sympathy with wheat and have taken an upward turn.

Howell News.

HOWELL, Ky., May 20, '95.—Mr. J. B. Wood was badly hurt a few days ago while loading a hogshed of tobacco on a wagon. He was improving. His injuries are not so serious as was first supposed, and his physician thinks he will be up before long. A singing school was organized yesterday at Olivet Baptist church, under the direction of Prof. Brown, of Big Rock, Tenn. Miss Nellie Fox leaves to-day for a visit to friends at Lewisburg, Tenn., and other points. Mr. J. S. Quarles is by long odds the biggest man in Howell to-day, and the increase in size is caused by the arrival of a fine boy at his house this morning.

June Circuit Court.

The June term of Christian circuit court convenes in this city Monday, June 3, for a four week's session. There have already been 109 appearances filed, with to-day left to file other suits for this term, which will probably swell the number to 125. There are 225 continued equity cases on the docket, 68 common law cases and 183 commonwealth cases, making in all about 600. The only commonwealth case of note is that of Wm. Morrison, charged with voluntary manslaughter, in the killing of Chas. M. Minton some time last year. This case is set for the 7th day of the term.

Preacher in Danger.

Preacher Capps, of Mt. Vernon, Ky., who attempted to murder his wife sometime since by shooting her several times, was held to answer at his examining trial in the sum of $3,000. His wife is still alive, but is in a precarious condition. The prisoner failed to give bond and was sent back to jail. On account of threats of lynching against him, a strong guard has been placed about the jail with orders to protect him from mob violence at all hazards.

New Landlord at the Phoenix.

Col. J. O. Cooper will take charge of the Phoenix hotel next Monday and conduct same in future. Mr. Cooper is a thorough hotel man, having conducted the business for a number of years before Mr. W. T. Cooper took charge of the house, and under his management the Phoenix will, no doubt, continue to enjoy the liberal patronage that it has in the past. Mr. W. T. Cooper has rented an elegant brick cottage on North Main and will move to same at once, where his other business interests will occupy his time and attention.

Two Sales for Dover.

On June 1 there will be held a one day meeting of the Spring fair at Dover, Tenn., which is open only to county entries, consisting of exhibitions of fine stock, running and trotting races. The fair is offered only for county stock at this meeting. The fall fair opens in October and lasts three days—10, 11 and 12—at which time there will be big classes and they are open to all. The fair association meetings will be moved to a location on Lick Creek, near Dover, where grounds have been donated by the land company of that place.

Examination.

There will be a teachers examination for the Hopkinsville public schools at the Clay street building on May 31 and June 1st. All desiring to take the examination will report for work at the place named by 8 o'clock Friday morning, May 31.

Deaths.

PERKINS.—Mrs. Jane C. Perkins died at her home near Cerulean Springs last week in the 79th year of her age. She was born in Virginia Oct. 14, 1816 and was married to C. Perkins at 16 years of age. She was left a widow in 1847. She leaves two sons and two daughters and a large number of grand children. She was a member of the Cerulean Springs church and her funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. W. Meacham on Friday at the church.

DUNLAP.—Mrs. Sarah Dunlap, one of the oldest women in the county, died at her home in the southern portion of the county on the 18th inst., aged 96 years. She had been a member of a Baptist church for 83 years and her long life was one of consistent piety and earnest consecration to the service of God. She was loved and revered by a large circle of friends. She was the mother of five children, two of whom survive her, Mr. A. Dunlap and Mrs. B. W. Cowherd. Her funeral services were held at Little River church on the 19th, by her pastor Rev. A. W. Meacham.

Colored.

PAYNE.—Nora Payne, aged 12 years, died of fever in the city Monday.

Beverly Shavings.

BEVERLY, May 22.—An "Nora Neil" was kind enough to furnish the news from this place, last week and "Scipio" has long since gone "West," though awfully frightened, we venture to write once more.

The farmers all around the village are blue over the recent cold weather, the frost having injured the wheat, corn and tobacco. The ravages of the cut worm are terrible. One farmer, after planting his tobacco over the third time, was heard to say to his wife, "suppose we leave home and spend the night and leave the cut worms monarch of all they survey."

Miss Lizzie Nance, after a two weeks' visit to Mrs. Eugene Coleman, has returned to her home at Roaring Springs.

Miss Anna Fleming spent several days of last week with Mrs. Guy Brune, of Flat Lick.

Miss Jessie Bradshaw is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Rosa Coleman, near Herndon.

Several couples from this place attended the party at Mr. W. W. West's, near Church Hill, Friday night, viz: Miss Donnell and Jack West, Miss Susan Donnell and Ed Steger, Miss Nettie Hord and Joseph Cheatham, Miss Mary Low, Kenner and James Bradshaw, Miss Maude Boyd and Try Nuechok, Miss May McCutcheon and Sam White, Miss Beanie Kenner and Ben West, Miss Lizzie Nance and Will White, Miss Lulu Steger and Rob Kenner, Miss Susie Syper and Sam White. They all reported a delightful time.

Miss Lillie Huffman, of Carbondale, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Burr Hackler, near Herndon.

Mrs. Minerva Bradshaw is very ill at this writing.

Messrs. W. L. and Tom Clardy and sister, Miss Jennie, were the pleasant guests of their Uncle, Mr. Tom Major, last week.

Mrs. Jimmie Bradshaw visited Flat Lick Sunday.

Misses Brenda and Alta Kenner are visiting friends in Hopkinsville.

MAMA'S PET'S.

During the past few months prices on footware have been steadily advancing and a further sharp advance is expected. Every body who buys shoes, it is thought, will go up 50 per cent.

PAUL JONES' CAREER.

He Was the First to Hoist the American Flag.

He Had a Peculiarly Fascinating Way with Sailors—A Tireless Letter-Writer and an Indefatigable Verses to Women.

On December 22, 1775, was made the beginning of the American navy, and from this point the true history of Paul Jones begins. He was then twenty-eight years old, of the middle height, his figure slight, but graceful, and of a "dashing and officer-like appearance." His complexion, writes Miss Kelly Elliot, Seawall in Century, was dark and weather beaten; his black eyes very expressive, but melancholy. His manners were easy and dignified with the great, and he was without doubt fascinating to women. He often fancied himself in love, and, like Washington, sometimes even wrote bad verses to ladies; but it is unlikely that any woman ever had the real mastery of his heart. He was not deterred by the greatness of "the goddess," as he called her when she pleased him, and made love to very great ladies quite as boldly as when with the lowly and the plain. He was a dashing and officer-like appearance. He had a peculiarly persuasive way with sailors as with women; and if he wished to enlist a sailor would walk up and down the pier with him by the hour, and he never failed to get his man. He was a tireless letter-writer, and when Paul Jones was in Paul Jones spoke nothing could exceed the force and simplicity of his style. But he was subject to outbursts of the literary devil, and his productions then were intolerably done. He wrote and spoke French respectively, and his handwriting, grammar and spelling are all much above the average of his day.

His first duty was as first lieutenant of the Alfred, Commodore Hopkins' flag ship. On this vessel he hoisted for the first time the original flag of the revolution—the rattlesnake flag. In a letter to Robert Morris in 1783, Paul Jones says:

"It was my fortune, as the senior of the first lieutenants, to hoist, myself, the flag of America (I chose to do it with my own hands) the first time it was displayed. Though this was but a light circumstance, yet, I feel for its honor more than I think I should have felt had it not so happened."

The services he was engaged in under Commodore Hopkins were from brilliant. The commodore had a strong disinclination to go "in harm's way" to use a favorite expression of Paul Jones—and within a year was dismissed from the navy. Paul Jones' first command was a little sloop of war, the Providence, and from a memorandum among his papers, in the handwriting of the secretary of the congress, we learn that his uniform was "Blue cloth with red lapels, slash cuffs, stand-up collar, flat yellow buttons, blue breeches, red waistcoat with narrow lace." The uniform for the junior officers was also prescribed, and all were commanded to wear "blue breeches. The manly features, however, were to wear "breeches edged with green, black gaiter and garters."

Paul Jones' conduct during the cruise he made in the Providence, and afterward in command of a small squadron in 1779, won him great credit, especially with Washington. He was distinguished by the conveying of men and stores from Rhode Island to Washington at New York. Long before the war with the British, Lord Howe's fleet, and Paul Jones' address in clothing them, especially the Cerberus frigate, which, trusted him, was like a lion in bloodhound, marked him as a man of great enterprise. His next cruise with a little squadron maintained his reputation, and from then on the requests of officers who wished to serve under him were frequent. Paul Jones' replies to these are quaint reading. He always protests a disinclination to "venture" of his daring schemes very captivately to an ambitious young officer.

There was great confusion in the tables of rank first adopted in the navy, and thence proceeded a grievance that Paul Jones never ceased to protest against bitterly, until in 1781, many years afterward, he became by the unanimous election of congress, the ranking officer of the American navy. By the personal carelessness of President Hancock, Paul Jones' original commission as captain—the first commission granted under the "United States"—was lost. When a new one was given him, he found, to his natural indignation, that thirteen of his juniors were ahead of him on the list of captains. How infuriating this was to a man as greedy of distinction as Paul Jones, may be imagined. He always spelled rank with a capital, and wrote it as "Rank," which means "Rank of Glory." He swore he would never serve under any of the men thus unjustly given precedence of him. Congress, while negligent in doing him justice, was wise enough, nevertheless, to give him always a separate command. It was determined to send him to Europe to the Bangor school of war, and in Europe to give him the finest command then at the disposal of the congress. This was a splendid frigate—the Indus—building at Amsterdam.

Alumina in Wall Paper.
The uses of alumina do not seem to have been exhausted yet. It is now coming into use in the decoration of wall papers, many beautiful conceptions being shown, in which this metal is a conspicuous figure. In floral striped effects the metal is printed as a beautifully embossed ground, which gives a burnished effect to the alumina that is very desirable. An effective arrangement of delicate fern leaves around the metal line is said to make a shade decoration for parlor or bedroom. The use of alumina with colors, with or without the addition of gold, is spoken of as another special feature of this new class of papers.

WILLIAM COURT GULLY.

Recently Elected Speaker of the British House of Commons.

William Court Gully, Q. C., member of parliament for Carlisle, elected to succeed Sir Arthur Wellesley and as speaker of the house of commons, was born in London in 1835 and was educated at Trinity college, Cambridge. He was president of the Cambridge Union and was called to the bar at the inner temple in 1860. He became Queen's counsel in 1877 and member of his inn in 1879. He was appointed recorder of Wigan in 1886 and unsuccessfully contested Whitehaven in 1890 and

WILLIAM COURT GULLY, Q. C., SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

1893. He has sat for Carlisle since 1890. Mr. Gully is a liberal, supporting Mr. Gladstone's Irish policy.

Mr. Gully will get an annual salary of £5,000 (£48,000), a pension of £4,000 (£36,000) after ward, even if he occupies the chair only an hour, and a peerage, with precedence meanwhile as "the first commoner in England."

The little known story of his antecedents makes his advancement romantic. His grandfather, the New York World correspondent, is informed, was a youth's well-known prize fighter, but by his innate ability he recommended himself not only beyond the prize ring but in later life to parliament.

His son, the father of the present member, was a distinguished physician, but became involved in the celebrated Bravo poisoning case of twenty years ago. Mrs. Florence Bravo, young and handsome, was tried for poisoning her husband, a rich and elderly barrister. The prosecution suggested that her motive was a desire to marry Dr. Gully. The doctor died only a year or two ago, but he retired from practice after this trial. His son had a large legal practice. He is greatly esteemed for his lofty character, and has the dignified, imposing presence considered indispensable in the speaker of the house of commons.

TO MARRY WILHELMINA.
Saxe-Coburg's Heir Likely to Wed Holland's Young Monarch.

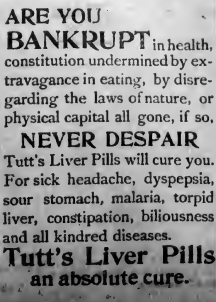

The young Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is likely to be betrothed to Prince Alfred of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, eldest son and heir of the duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha (more generally known as the Duke of Edinburgh), according to the New York World.

The little monarch of the Dutch is not yet fifteen years old, and a very beautiful, intelligent girl, merry-hearted and free of mischief. She is the last scion of famous house of Orange, founded by the great William the Silent. Her father was William III, and her mother, Queen Emma, is regent during her daughter's minority.

Prince Alfred, the youngest prince-elect, is twenty years old and a handsome, intelligent youth. He is Queen Victoria's grandson, his father, the duke of Edinburgh, being the second son of the English monarch.

In May and June the young queen is to be given an outing in England in order to introduce her to her "aunt" queen, as Victoria is called by the younger crowned heads of Europe, instead of the more familiar "sister."

Queen Wilhelmina will also see all the budding royalties at her own age, and have a real good time, such as a four-year-old girl ought to have, but rarely does, which are in born in the purple and not allowed to mutter or peep except by rule. She is a delicate, nervous child, and those who know her should have her ring early and often.

WILHELMINA, HOLLAND'S GIRL QUEEN.

The State Democratic executive committee of North Carolina, met at Raleigh, Wednesday and adopted resolutions reaffirming the party's declaration in the State convention in favor of the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, by a vote of 29 to 1.

The Louisville Post, heretofore a strong supporter of Hardin, has changed front and is demanding his defeat as the "first duty of Democracy." But what is the use of quote from the Post? If it ever had any influence it has been destroyed by just such capers as this.

Secretary Carlisle's change of base is bad enough, but it is not so shameful as the sudden drop of Justice Shiras on the income tax law. Less than sixty days ago Justice Shiras, after a full hearing of the case, voted to sustain the law, but this week he reversed his decision after Justice Jackson had broken the tie by voting in favor of the law. This suspicious somersault of the Pennsylvania member was what knocked out the law.

Secretary Carlisle stated at Covington that free coinage would cause the immediate disappearance of $625,000,000 of gold. This in the face of his own report giving the amount of gold in the country as $9,400,000, which Prof. Laughlin says has been reduced to $568,000,000 since the secretary's report was issued. The secretary failed to explain how free coinage would "run out" more gold than we have and he further failed to explain what has already run out $1,100,000,000 under a single gold standard.

Some few argue that because Linn beat Cook in 1890 for County Judge that Linn is the most popular. That argument is too thin. In the first place Cook made no active canvass. In the next place Linn was beaten by the popular element in the regular election, again Linn beat Ferguson in the primary in 1890, worse than he did Cook. In 1894 Linn was the third man in the race and Ferguson was nominated and elected!

Verily things have changed since Betsy died, and the Democrats in Callaway know more than they did four years ago—Murray Ledger.

The International Horsehoers' Convention at Milwaukee, Wis., Wednesday, adopted resolutions favoring free coinage of silver. The preamble stated that all the hard times of the past two years have been caused directly by the demonetization of silver, and to this cause was due the compulsory idleness of 2,000,000 workmen. Another resolution was adopted providing for copies of the resolution and preamble to be sent to President Cleveland, Vice-President Stevenson, Secretary Carlisle and the chairman of the finance committees of the senate and house of representatives.

Secretary Carlisle's exhibitions of "offensive partnership" in Kentucky are the strongest card the goldbugs have to play. They have made a systematic attempt to stampede the Democracy to the English system of currency advocated by Mr. Carlisle. Pamphlet copies of his speech were sent out to the papers several days ahead of its delivery and every inducement was offered to get the county papers to print his attack on Democratic principles. His speech was a dry discussion of goldbug arguments long since exploded and contained nothing new on the subject.

A PAIR OF PICTURES.

(Mayfield Mirror.)

Our congressman, Hon. John K. Hendrick, has a position on the currency question, and makes no hesitancy in announcing his views. Last fall when he was a candidate for nomination for congress he issued a circular in which he used the following language:

"Another groundless report that has been circulated is the one to the effect that I am a goldbug. Of course the originator of the story knew it to be untrue and it was done for the sole purpose of injuring me, the parties starting it well knowing that many people would hear it that I could never reach by denial or explanation. The fact is, I have never in my life entertained the slightest favor for the single standard. I have known, ever since I have been old enough to seriously consider the question, that neither of the metals exists in sufficient quantities to answer the business demands of the country and to strike down either of the metals would lessen by one-half the poorer or the tax-paying class to meet just the demands against them; and as I belong to that class of fellow citizens I certainly would not favor a scheme which I think would result in my own oppression. I claim to be a bimetalist in every sense of the word, and were I in congress would certainly vote and use my influence towards the rehabilitation of silver. I would not even vote to change the present ratio of coinage, because if the ratio should be changed from 16 to 1, to 17 to 1, or changed to any other ratio, that very act, of itself, would devalue and destroy every dollar of the $600,000,000 which we now have in circulation."

The above language was used not quite a year ago and now the following is attributed to him by a Courier-Journal correspondent at Owensboro, while he was there at the convention to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner last week:

Congressman Hendrick, of the first district, said: "I made my campaign on a sound money platform and won by it. I believe my majority still exists in my district. These reports about so many free silver men in my county are untrue. How can a Democrat be for free silver with the record of our administration behind us? A Democrat could not get up and make a speech on a free silver platform. That would be going back on the teachings of our party."

Mr. Hendrick's followers here, without regard to their views on the money question, were greatly surprised to find such sentiments attributed to him as contained in the Courier-Journal, remembering how he had fled the district with circulars in which he claimed to hold the position of free and unlimited coinage.

Having knocked out Prof. J. L. Laughlin, the Chicago goldbug, W. H. Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School", is going to discuss silver with Congressman Rowell P. Harr, who thinks he knows it all.

The Democrats have nominated two more candidates for the legislature—H. K. Hay in Boyle and W. H. Daugherty in Grant county.

Sick Headache and Neuralgia Cured by Hood's.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me a great deal of good. I have been a sufferer from sick headache and neuralgia nearly all my life. The pains had become so intense that my hands would cramp for hours so that I could not use them. The doctor told my husband there was little help for me. The different medicines tried had greatly disordered me. I bought one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have realized relief, so much so that I feel like a new person. Our little boy has been troubled with his throat but since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, general health and hoarseness have gone and he is better in health." Mrs. MATTIE GUPSTON, Dukedom, Tennessee.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Katie Crawford Covington, the wife of John Covington, of Pembroke, died in the Douglas Infirmary at Nashville, Tenn., May 7, 1895, in the forty-first year of her age. She was born Dec. 15, 1853. Two years later she was happily converted to God, and united with the Methodist church, in which communion she lived a consistent and exemplary member until the day of her death. It would be difficult for any one to exemplify more fully the Christian graces than she, in the life she lived. Gentle, charitable, kind, sweet-spirited and abounding in good works. All who knew her recognized her as one of the "elect ladies" spoken of by the apostle. She had been an invalid and a great sufferer at times for many years, but her sufferings with characteristic patience and fortitude. Her death was a great shock to her friends as it was not expected, but when it came, it found her ready to meet the issue without a tremor, or a doubt.

Your Physical Condition

Needs attention at this time. If you are tired, weak and nervous, it is clear that your blood is impure, and without doubt there has been too much over-work or strain on brain and body. The course of treatment for such a condition is plain and simple. The blood must first be purified so that the nervous system, and in fact all the organs will be fed upon pure blood. Intelligent people without number have testified that the best blood purifier, nerve tonic and strength imparting medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Nervousness, loss of sleep and general debility all vanish when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken; in a word, health and happiness follow after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dr. Kollock in Nashville.
 The attention of the reader is especially called to the card of Dr. Matthew Henry Kollock, which is in another column. The Doctor is a native of Norfolk, Va., (1854) of a prominent Southern family of Savannah, Ga. He is quoted as a standard authority by the "Encyclopedia Britannica," page 188, as "the largest and most important work in the world," being in its volume, each the size of a large English Bible. He is noted as a "specialist for neuralgia of the face and head," and the Doctor has been all over the world and has made many cures, especially at "not prices." Ark., given up by other physicians.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice in the D. E. Carr of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "Come upon me again, very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost most look to look at." Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ed. R. Bogard, Lafayette, drugists.

Whoever tries to bid good-by to his sins one at a time, will never get them all behind him.

For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent. By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. Colon States and International Exposition
 To the COLONIAL PEOPLE of the STATE OF KENTUCKY—Greeting.
 Beginning Sept. 18th and continuing to Dec. 31st, there will be held in the city of Atlanta, Ga., an Exposition on a plan similar to the World's Fair at Chicago, and a Department especially for the exhibit of the colored people, has not yet been set apart, and Boards of Commissioners from each of the States south of the Ohio river have been appointed. The undersigned, without any solicitation and without any honorarium, has been appointed to present this very important matter to our people and to take whatever steps may be necessary to collect such a set of exhibits as shall reflect credit upon us as a State and as a race. A building, 112x276 ft., at a cost of $25,000, for the exhibit of the colored people, has been erected by the Exposition Company. The building has been erected by Negro contractors who employed Negro mechanics and the building is now being completed. It is being erected and managed by Negro brain, brawn and skill and is placed at our disposal free of cost of any kind. It is a large and commodious building, extended to no other class of exhibitors but the cost of collecting, transporting, installing and supervising the exhibits is to be provided for by the colored people of the several States. As Kentucky has always stood well up in the front, we cannot afford to lag behind in this important matter. We have people of color of our ingenuity and skill, hence the Commissioners would urgently request every man and woman of the race to assist them in securing a creditable exhibit from this State. This exhibition will show the progress of our people in Education, Agriculture, Mechanical skill, Fine Arts and Woman's Work. It will therefore call upon the citizens of the State who are interested in the progress and development of the race to contribute such exhibits as mentioned above.

As the Exposition opens Sept. 18th there is not a day to be lost. What is to be done must be done at once. In order that this may be done, the undersigned, therefore, calls upon the Commissioners to visit the several counties and cities of the State and appoint Resident and Lady Commissioners and to collect funds necessary to defray the expenses of the exhibit; all money so collected to be forwarded to the Treasurer, Rev. E. L. Gilliam, 1520 Broadway St., Louisville, Ky., who will send receipt for the same.

Further information will be cheerfully furnished by either of the undersigned.

DOLABELLE'S LETTER.

What Gotham's Beauties Wear in the Millinery Line.
 Stylish Headgear Seen on Fifth Avenue—Lace Designed to Play an Important Part in Spring Tailors' Shows of the New Colors.

[Special New York Letter.]
 Our girls with pretty aires are delighted with the Parisian elbow sleeves which demand the long glove for street wear, but in the elegant and attractive features of the summer house-toilette. With them we may soon welcome the return of the low-cut bodice, as I have already seen a number of new house-gowns made distinctly low-necked, to permit of the large tulle or chiffon ruffs over which our belles are making such an ado. One of my girl-friends has half a dozen of those ruffs. One is a very wide affair, which stands out like a shield. It is composed of black chiffon ruffled with red roses which shade into a deep brown, or foliage rose. Another is a striped lace mixed with jet and has a wide lace-trimmed collar as "day's whiskers"—side tufts that stand out beyond the shoulder level. A white one, for evening, is a wide plait of white lace, divided by roses, and with long tufts of lace, to form enormous bows under the chin.

HOUSE AND TEA GOWN.

 The little throat bows of ostrich feathers are in as much demand as ever, and you have only to tie in a rose, or a bunch of violets, to make them available for the evening. In the same way the long box is tied at the throat with a knot of favorite flowers, and by this little touch becomes new.

A great deal has been said in fashionable circles about a distinct style in bonnets being adopted this season. I have failed to see any such distinction. In my after-noon walk down Fifth avenue, where all the beauty and style of New York promenade in gala attire, on the contrary, I did not see two hats or bonnets alike, and one style did not predominate over another. My practiced eye could discriminate between the imported bonnet and the one made here without Mrs. Nolet's aid being attached, because I had the pleasure of a private view on their arrival from over the sea. Nor were their prettier or more bonnet and their dainty confections of our own milliners. Such dears as they are—there were many pretty bonnets, all flowers and sprays, wings, and dazling, dazling effects. One stylish hat I noticed was a black satiny braid, with a flat brim and a tiny sugar-loaf crown, which was embroidered all over with sequins, and adorned with ear bows of rich red-pink velvet, an asprey algaire in front and four black tips at the back. The wire-frame hat, covered with lace or silk tissue, or anything light and airy, is worn, and the fashionable gauze ribbons will be wired into bows and loops for trimmings. Flowers with natural leaves are a novelty, the French having discovered some way to preserve leaves, and these give a veral touch to the decorations, the veins and shadings being far superior to any artificial leaf. A peculiar shade of living green is in vogue this spring that is much admired. It resembles the pale June green of the varied colors in the fields at that perfect season. It is the color of a young shoot of a plant, or an early blade of grass.

 I saw an artistic hat of plaited green straw, which was trimmed with masses of pink roses outside and under the brim, with a background of ostrich tips in the same vein of color, and it was a delightful piece of millinery. The continental Napoleon and Duke shapes are all in extreme favor at present. I heard of one matron, a fashionable woman, who possessed the Dutch bonnet with its windmill sails, and on the first time of wearing it saw her shadow on the wall.
 "I saw the head of a Dutchman," said the poor thing, "I think that is the head, with short horns that flare straight out. I thought I had a pig's head."

Condiional.
 "Will you love me when I'm gone?" asked Mr. Linger of his sweetheart.
 "If you'll go soon," replied the faithful girl, with a paven look.

ward, or said in a huff, "I'll take it into its box and haven't taken it out since." I comforted her by telling her that my own alarm clock was a counterpane of Memphis, and that such halcyon effects were most desirable in these days.

Accustomed as I am to seeing much lace worn here in all seasons, I was struck the other day with a new sense of its responsibility in the spring toilet. Every costume I saw had some garniture of lace. It was on capes, on bodices, hats, and entered into the composition of nearly all toilettes. Luxuriant ruffles of lace give a touch of feminine beauty to street gowns, and the new lace capes which are worn over the dresses are charmingly becoming to the wearer.

The French fash of white polka-dotted muslin—the dots in pale pink or blue—have deep double ruffles of sheer chiffon. These are worn to form a yoke in the back and then passing about the shoulders in graceful folds they are brought down on each side of the front, held in place on the corsage by knots of blue and red narrow ribbon. As the waistline is cut high in the back, the ends fall to the knees. These are worn over ordinary gowns to give them a dressy touch.

It is only a new trend of millinery to cut the spring cape, and of course just as fashionable untripped as trimmed, but you must have a handsome light satin lining. Why satin? Because it slips on and off so easily. Then you need a ruff at the neck, and there you are complete. And the velvet they are seeking for their wing-capes are only $3 a yard—unless you want to pay more. Blue velvet is quite popular, but black goes with everything.

Who will wear all the black crepe that are in the market? There is a craze for the crinkled goods that surpasses anything yet. It is not their cheapness, for they are high-priced—$2.50 being a medium figure, while the silk and wool are $8 a yard. Then it is imperative that they shall be lined with silk. Let me tell you of one I saw in a leading Broadway dress establishment, where they have both the goods and the ready-made gowns, many of them imported. One of these goods of crinkled crepe had a bodice of French plaid of pale green, mixed with stripes of black and white, which had separate box plaits of the crepeon falling from the neck to the waist. This box plait was ended at the back by a magnificent bow of wide black satin ribbon, which started from under the arms.

Beading, lace insertings, satin pipings and gimps are all used to outline the seams of a dress, but it is quite as elegant to have them plain. The Eton jacket is in evidence in the summer costume. It has a square sailor collar, and reaches to the waist line. On some the square collar is of string-colored lace, which has a good effect, as does also the butter-yellow. A new color of the season is the crane now extends to gloves with four large buttons, and black attachings on the back. They are of glove kid, and look very clean and fresh for afternoon functions. The shop windows on certain days are full of them, making a tempting display.

Bodices, bodices, bodices, in one controlling color, red, yellow, or black, and in every kind of summer silk! My only objection to them is that they seem to have had their sleeves all cut by the arm of some abnormally long-geared woman, and the leg-of-mutton has the dimensions of the whole sheep. In our present riot of colors, the flower tones are mostly suggested, lilac, grass-green, daffodil-yellow, rose in all its tints, petunia-pink and forget-me-not blue or myosotis. Then there is the Mandarin color of the little orange, which is shown in the new plaques, drills and silks, and the battureep organicles and muslins.

Veils are worn more than ever for some reason. A smoke-colored dotted net is considered stylish, and the new white-flowered veils are much admired, but the black dot on a square mesh holds its own for everyday wear. Girls, when you buy a yard of medium-width veiling to wear with a hat, just tie a knot in the middle of the edge that goes on the brim, and draw it into a loop. It will stick over your face and be as good as a shir. A Fifth avenue milliner taught me with one twirl of her supple fingers.

The hood and hat gown in the illustration is a design in black satin with tight-fitting back and jacket fronts. The yoke is of fine muslin in the creata-tive tone, with bands of thread inserting. The ruffles are of needle-work embroidery. Bows and long ends of pearly-green satin ribbon.

The dress costume is of light-green cloth with fancy velvet sleeves. The bodice is of the material, the velvet showing in the collar of leaf-green satin. Togue of lace and jet, with algaire; lace, and ostrich tips.

The small bonnet is the very newest design. The marginer on either side are black velvet with light green centers, backed by feathery algaire. A looping of vivid rose-pink ribbon forms the front of the bonnet.

DOLABELLE.

PRINTERS

GRADE PRINTING at moderate prices. We are well equipped to do the best HIGH HEADS, Envelopes, Catalogues, Circulars, Posters, Certificates of Stock, Bonds, or any kind of printing where good work is desired.

BINDERS

Write us for estimates on Blank Books. One of our specialties is good BLANK BOOK work. Every costume I saw had some garniture of lace. It was on capes, on bodices, hats, and entered into the composition of nearly all toilettes. Luxuriant ruffles of lace give a touch of feminine beauty to street gowns, and the new lace capes which are worn over the dresses are charmingly becoming to the wearer.
